

SCLD New SCLD Guide

SCLD have just launched a new guide.

This guide is called Developing a Learning Disability Strategy.

What is the guide about?

This guide is to help Health and Social Care Partnerships to plan their Learning Disability Services.

Health and Social Care Partnerships are the NHS and the Council joined together.

Health and Social Care Partnerships are responsible for the planning of services like those for people with learning disabilities.

Who should use the guide?

The guide will be useful for everyone who is involved in planning services.

You can let people know about the guide.

Tell them that they can download it on the SCLD website.
